Latest Architecture And Engineering Systems Being Into Negro School

As guest speaker at the Lions Club Wednesday, Superintendent of Public Instruction Howell Watkins brought the news that approval had been given to adding four new class rooms to the present Belle Glade High School this summer.

He also stated that the new negro elementary school is on new designs of architecture and construction and would be the answer to the prayer of the teachers and pupils for a modern, decent school plant.

Watkins took occasion to speak about what had been accomplished the past two years for state-wide Negro schools, under the school Foundation act and its effect on the schools in Palm Beach County in particular. His report was most impressive and showed how faculty members, school work and there is great cooperation all along the line and that he as the chief administrator was giving his heart and soul to better the county educational program.

This is the first time our Glee Club has ever participated in a festival of this kind. ## Heavy Shipment Of Produce From Glades Reported

Demand For Glades Produce Continues Brisk At Satisfactory Prices

The Florida Vegetable Market has had more demand this season than for some time past because of freeze-outs in various like production areas in the states. Florida has been the main source of supply for green vegetables and the growers and packers have been taking every advantage for the favorable demand and market prices. Prices have not skyrocketed but have been maintained at a reasonable profit price.

Last week's shipment by rail was the heaviest of the season when 584 cars were forwarded out of the Glades area, or 250 cars less than 5,000 for the entire season. Car shortages have not been apparent as the result of some far sighted planning.

Northern people are taking most kindly to our Glades sweet corn, which is shipped in both bulk and in crates. Shipment may last at least a month longer.

Many local farmers are preparing land and ready to start crop of whatever they may desire to plant. Pakoos growers are not starting on the harvest of their spring potato crop, but there is little potato acreage in the Glades area. Pumpkins and Pakoos are about ended on the snap bean crop, but Belle Glade growers seem to have plenty to meet demand and some coming on for late season orders.

Wren Johnson, of Fulton, Ky., spent several days in the Glades last week on business connected with the proposed opening of the local cannery factory. While on his tour he has been made in the deal, at the writing, no definite decision has been made on this company's investment for Belle Glade.

The Vegetable League members will again put on the feed contest on comparative quality. In North and West Florida where peaches, religion, women and football are in order of importance are the main topics of discussion and consideration the University of Florida's football team is being touted as something of which Florida should be proud.

Last week we found a correspondent of the Times Union at Jax giving the team a boost; now comes the Tampa Tribune with an analysis of the eleven positions, with favorable comment on comparative quality.

Carroll McDonald, who is understood by Jimmy Kynes, the regular center, appeals to Coach Bear Wolf for the boys. "Jimmy Kynes, of course, will be the top candidate for a job he's held here some. But don't be too surprised if you see Carroll McDonald, a husky youngster from Belle Glade in the regular spot. Florida's new President, Dr. J. Hillis Miller, came into the State with an outstanding record of accomplishment and without the prejudice of North Florida's history of running the state. He has been a source of consideration for all parts of the state will undoubtedly bring more interest in the University from South Florida.

Prize Essayists Are Awarded By Local Elks Lodge

An unusual ceremony of an interesting nature was conducted at the session of the Elks lodge Monday night when the Chairman, Henry O. Earwood of the Educational committee, presented the three young women who had won places in the contests of the National Elks' Association Essay Contest. The pupils of the Belle Glade High School, who had submitted a number of 19 had submitted essays on the subject "Why Democracy Wins". The unanimous vote of the essay committee, the three best essays were selected and the first position essay has been forwarded to state headquarters for the contest.

The winners of the contest were Miss Dorothy Yarborough, both of the South Bay Junior High school and Miss Gloria Crosby, tenth grade student in the Belle Glade school. Chairman Earwood stated the election was the best of the year for top honors. ## Belle Glade Band Places Second In State Inspection

The Belle Glade High School Band placed second in all three divisions when they participated in the State Inspection Monday afternoon, according to an announcement made by the band director Howard Payne.

This inspection is held each year prior to the State Band Contest and covers the playing of a march and an overture selected by State officials, plus a concert number selected by each band director. In addition, Bands are inspected on sight playing of a march and a concert number, followed by drill and take part in the State Band Contest which will be held in Jacksonville on May 1st.

Heretofore, District One, which includes bands from Belle Glade, Pahokee, and schools south through Key West, has had one mass inspection at a designated place. This year officials are experimenting with individual inspection. Since our field is being filled and graded and the Pahokee High School auditorium offers better acoustics, it was decided to hold our inspection there.

The entire occasion is designed to put dubbers or a pair with the so-called "pros". So the degree of perfection of your normal playing need not influence your winning this tournament. There'll be fun for all participants and prizes.

Recognizing the probable growth of the cattle industry in all of its phases in South Florida some several years ago, Nathan Mayo designed Belle Glade as a site for one of his fine exhibition buildings to be built in the State. This building is intended to be used by all southeast Florida counties for both cattle exhibits, as well as any of the other phases of agriculture in the counties of the lower tip of the State.

The Palm Beach County Cattlemen's Association together with the Committee in charge of the Pavilion, have arranged the first cattle show for the date.

OBSERVATIONS

under a system similar to those in many of the smaller cities of the state, consisting of a chief, a desk sergeant, a parking meter inspector, and six other officers, two fast radio equipped motor cars, a motor bike, a prisoner barracks, and while good, the central jail is not modern or of sufficient size to care for present day requirements.

Within the city hall are to be found the Mayor, the Clerk, the Building Inspector, the city fire department, and the clerk of the work in the water, garbage and city offices. L. E. Willis has been the official fire chief since the department was established, and he has under him a paid crew of efficient firemen, and equipment that meets the current demands. Our water department is good, and capable of providing all the water the current demands require.

When our town was first incorporated as a Village, under act of the Legislature, things that were adequate then, were included in the bill, but during the two decades, changed in the charter has not been made, to meet present day demands of a fast growing and developing, agro-industrial city. Our most pressing needs are ample sanitary and storm water sewerage, and extension of the water distributing works system, plans for which have been provided, but lack of money to install has temporarily held up both projects.

Changes in city charters must be formulated, published, prior to being presented to the General Legislature and for some weeks past our present City Commission have been diligently studying up special home governing laws, which it desires to be included in our charter, to give the City more power to act in fields not yet developed. Most of this work has been done in the city hall, by the commissioners and heads of departments, but have been largely prepared by Mayor Harris and City Solicitor Herbert Beck. Among the changes and additions, backed by necessary commission legislation in ordinances passed are the following:

Change the title of the City Marshal to that of Chief of police, giving power to purchase, erect, operate or lease a public market; regulate the loading and unloading of trucks and cargo on the public streets; purchase, erect, regulate, operate trailer or parking lots, the same for public docks on lands owned by the city; establish motor or bus transportation systems, control public utilities and fix rates for services; place a tax upon the sale of common commodities offered for sale in the city as merchandise; place telephone and cable wires under ground; correct errors and justify acts of city employees in tax collection problems; issue revenue bonds, ad valorem bonds; condemn property for use of the city, condemn and destroy unsafe and unsanitary property unfit for public habitation, or as health or fire hazards.

One of the main changes desired is the right to set up a Merit or Civil Service Commission, for the employment and protection of efficient city employees so they will not be subject to removal as the result of municipal political upheavals in the changes of city administrations.

The bill provides the means of setting up the Department, the duties and salaries of the five man board commission; the manner of hiring and discharging city employees; and provisions set up by the Commission. All employees hired under the various covered divisions as may be set up, must be by examinations and performance of satisfactory service; and removal may be made only for cause, and not then, until after a hearing before and the recommendation of the Board to the City Commission.

Everyone who drives a motor vehicle in Belle Glade, is under due appreciation to the State Highway Department, for that new length way flooring which has been installed at the Hillsboro canal bridge. It is much more convenient and far less of an accident hazard than the old dilapidated one that has been replaced.

The committee of the Lions club who had to deal with the officials of the Rogers Brothers circus, have only words of praise for the acts of the latter, as they were most liberal in their demands and generosity of an unexpected kind was extended. The Lions were willing at any time to renew relations with the Rogers Brothers, if it again makes a visit to our city. Its organization was an orderly one, as the police had no cause to make a single arrest from their crews. The sum of $75.00 was a tidy one to pick up for our proposed swimming pool.

B. F. Fears, of the Officers' Department store, has had a long experience in the mercantile business in DeFuniac Springs, Fla. Myers, Tahokee and Belle Glade, but states that the sale that is now on at his department store, is the first one he has ever sponsored. He admits that the sale was a mighty good way to get rid of over stocked inventory goods, and believes that those who patronized were fully pleased with the type and purchases made. Quite a good many people are going to sleep on more comfortable springs, mattresses and beds; and using the department store, and articles of house furniture and equipment.

It takes both white and colored people to make Belle Glade. The city possesses an organization known as the Inter-Racial Committee, which is made up of people of both races, for the benefit, especially for the colored people. Our local colored citizens are extremely proud of what they have been able to accomplish for themselves, and public projects, that have long been missing. The colored people are so tickled over the fact that they will have a new school home, that they just hug themselves with joy. Its people like the Taylors, Houstons, Morgans, and many others, who are pulling for a larger better and proved colored town. White people can well afford to give them every assistance in their projects.

If the bill is endorsed by the Legislature, Belle Glade will become a borough city, or in other words will have electoral boundaries, represented by commissioners, who will make up the legislative body of the city. Town sure is taking on citified airs.

Have you purchased your first new car? If so, you are in this for the long haul. You are now a city on April 1, and it was for you smoke the things, you will have to clamp down an extra three pennies per package up to 30 cigarettes.

An ideal day at Jupiter Beach at the DuBois camp on the Loxahatchee river, was enjoyed by a group of Belle Glade Odd Fellows, which primarily was for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Robinson, former members of the local lodge.

However, Mr. Robertson was not present as he had been called to Wilmington, Delaware, on a business mission, but the wife did her honors for the occasion, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Everett Burchett, of Marietta, O.

When the dinner bell sounded a groning table load of victuals, chief of which was fried chicken and corn on the cob, was served. Fishing, bathing and lots of loafing was enjoyed.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Davidson and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McTaggart and family, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Leathers, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Gledhill, Misses Sarah Diggs, Kathleen Rogers, Grace Clayton, Mrs. Anna Barlow, Mrs. Ed Morrison, Mrs. Langworthy, Mr. and Mrs. Kelly and family of West Palm Beach.

CIVIL SERVICE PLAN FOR CITY EMPLOYEES

Mayor Junius Harris appeared before the Board of City Friday and outlined a proposed civil service law to be sought in the coming legislature.

"We feel the better employees, and more loyal employees, will be available if they are assured of freedom from annual disturbance from politics," said the Mayor.

Walter Hooker, presiding at the meeting, remarked at the conclusion of the talk, "We see here, democracy in its simplest form at work."

More Drunken Drivers
Get Licenses Killed
On City Police Court

City police were busy over the week end and many white dark offenders were registered on the police court blotter. A lot of them apparently did not like the city bastille, for they or their friends bonded them out, and the cash put up was estimated to the city treasury. Judge Johnson would just as leave call extra bail for when the defendants fail to face him, he does not need to hear the case.

Police picked up several fellows who figured that they could drink and still operate an automobile safely on the highway. Three licenses were revoked and fines as heavy as $70 were assessed.

One accident was due to a train and poor truck brakes. Joe Murphy was driving his car westward on Ocoela highway near the Ice Plant when a shifting train cut off his progress. A negro truck driver with a load of vegetables, came up behind the Murphy car, but brakes failed to hold, and the truck hit the Murphy car, banging it up against the moving freight train, and about ruining it. The truck driven by Otis Holland was also badly damaged. The court held that Holland should bear the expense of repairing or replacing the Murphy car. Bad liquor seemed to have its full effect on a dozen or more persons who were picked up for drunkenness, fighting and disorderly conduct and using profane language.

Alleged Belle Glade Gambling Case Tossed Out Of Court

Early in the present year Constable Ray Whitlock placed under arrest one Harry Leibovitz, of the Brass Rail Bar, on a charge of unlawfully setting up and permitting playing on punch boards, contrary to law.

The defendant entered his case to Criminal court, claiming that the city of Belle Glade had licensed him and the punch boards, and that he was not a law offender. County Prosecutor Harold Williams decided that under the license feature he had no grounds for prosecution and asked the court to nolle prosequi the action, which Judge Newell granted. This case was to have been a test case in the courts, and punch boards had been filed, all punch boards made a hasty bidding as the case failed, punch boards are again publically in operation in Belle Glade and near by towns.
